Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(c), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(c) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on February 09, 2010 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-6, 8, 11 and 13-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US 3,627,176 to Sailors.

Sailors shows an automatic actuator for an aerosol container as seen in Fig. 3, having solenoid valve means 48 enclosed in a metallic cover 42, a metallic hood 58 secured with releasable fasteners 62, a metallic base 50, a power source 72, a spray nozzle and an aerosol connector elements 26 and 34. The metallic elements in the device of Sailors intensify the magnetic field where required, see column 3, lines 23-28.

In reference to claims 4 and 5, see Fig. 4 and column 4, lines 4-65.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 9 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US 3,627,176 to Sailors in view of US 5,417,258 to Privas.

Sailors shows all claimed features as discussed above except for a hooked portion for securing the hood to the base. Privas shows a valve cover with a hook 107 and a second part 106 with indentation; both parts lock and cooperate with respect to each other to secure the cover to the container. It would have been obvious to a person with ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the device of Sailors to include a hook on the cover and indentation on the container to facilitate and simplify securing the cover to the container as taught by Privas.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-6, 8-11 and 13-17 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Melvin A. Cartagena whose telephone number is (571) 272-4924. The examiner can normally be reached on M-TH (8:30AM to 7:00 PM).
